¹ VALIC Timed Opportunity Fund, Inc., Investment Company Act Release Nos. 13891 (Apr. 17, 1984) (notice) and 13943 (May 16, 1984) (order). The Applicant has undergone several name changes since the order was issued, and since December 31, 2001 has been named the “Asset Allocation Fund” (a series company of the registrant VALIC Company I). See VALIC Company I, Statement of Additional Information, Co, Oct. 1, 2015, <https://www.sec.gov/Archives/edgar/data/719423/000119312515327556/d93331d485bpos.htm>.

exempting the Applicant from the provisions of section 18(f)(1) and section 17(f) of the Act to the extent necessary to permit it to invest in stock index futures contracts and interest rate futures contracts for hedging purposes. The Exemptive Order was expressly subject to compliance with the undertakings made in the application.

On November 2, 2020, the Commission adopted rule 18f-4, which provides an updated and more comprehensive approach to the regulation of registered investment company (“fund”) and business development company use of derivatives and certain other transactions by replacing existing Commission and staff guidance with a codified, consistent regulatory framework.² The undertakings of the Exemptive Order relating to section 18(f)(1) and the Applicant’s investments in stock index futures contracts and interest rate futures contracts are superseded by rule 18f-4, which became effective on February 19, 2021 and with which funds will have to comply as of August 19, 2022. In addition, as a general matter, a fund trading in exchange-traded futures and commodity options can rely on rule 17f-6, which permits funds to maintain their assets with futures commission merchants in connection with futures contracts and commodity options traded on U.S. and foreign exchanges.³

Section 38(a) of the Act states, in relevant part, that the Commission shall have authority to rescind an order as is necessary or appropriate to the exercise of the powers conferred upon the Commission elsewhere in the Act.⁴ On the basis of rules 18f-4 and 17f-6 and the discussions in the releases adopting each of those rules, and on the authority granted to the Commission in section 38(a) of the Act, the Commission intends to rescind the Exemptive Order.
